- E. CHILDREN AND CHOCOLATE
- F. DEVELOPING A HABIT

Chocolate

1. C. HAVING TOO MUCH

While I was out shopping in the local supermarket I bumped into a friend of mine. It was great to see her although she had put on a lot of weight since the last time we met. While we were chatting I looked into her trolley and saw that there were boxes and bars of all kinds of chocolate in there! “Ah, yes,” Cheryl said having seen my glance, “I know it’s bad for the children to eat so much chocolate but I like it too.” We carried on chatting about this and that and then decided to have a coffee together after we’d both done our shopping.

2. F. DEVELOPING A HABIT

Cheryl went on to tell me that for some years now she can’t live without chocolate. It started because whenever she felt unhappy, or angry or just generally fed up she had a bar of chocolate which would make her feel better, and much happier. Sometimes she had two. She then needed to have the chocolate no matter how she felt; it was like wanting to have a cigarette she said. She said that she had a box in a cupboard just for her chocolate bars, it was hidden away of course because she couldn’t tell her husband about it.

3. A. HUNTING FOR CHOCOLATE

Cheryl explained that she had tried to give up a few times but she would have terrible headaches which only went away when she started to eat a chocolate bar. Once, when there was none in the house, she wanted to have some chocolate so much that she drove out late at night to find a garage in order to buy some bars. “Luckily nobody noticed I was gone, they were all asleep but I felt very bad about it,” Cheryl added. She also admitted to stealing chocolate from her children. “So the chocolate makes me feel good when I eat it, but then very guilty too!”

4. B. THE TRUTH AND LIES ABOUT CHOCOLATE

Cheryl has tried to find out some facts about chocolate to see if her addiction was very bad for her or not. “There was a report that said chocolate can help fight heart disease. I thought this was a positive thing, but then saw that the scientists were paid by a company that makes chocolate! Other research also suggested if you eat chocolate three times a month you’ll live a year longer. But then they said that chocolate’s high fat content means it can lead to a risk in heart disease!”

5. D. DREAMS ABOUT CHOCOLATE

“It’s not my fault,” she continued. There are natural chemicals in chocolate which make you feel good. I know I have a sweet tooth anyway, but chocolate has over 300 chemicals in it – it’s not just a nice taste, you know! The only good thing I learned really was that dark chocolate is better for you than milk chocolate. This is because it can help control blood pressure. And sometimes,” she said with a smile, “I imagine that I’ve fallen into a deep pit full of chocolate bars and I can eat them all!”
